CONCRETE POURED ON WEST THIRD

IS BEING LAID ON STREET BETWEEN RAY AND MUNN

GRADING IS FINISHED

26 Men Employed For Work By Cook & O'Brien Construction Co.—7 Trucks Used

Seven Ford dump trucks are busily engaged hauling the proper proportions of cement, sand and rock from the cars at the Wabash depot to the cement mixing machine for the paving on West Third street. The crew of the Cook & O'Brien Construction Co. of Kansas City is now laying the concrete for the paving bed, or foundation, on West Third Street in the block between Ray and Munn avenues. This morning concrete had been spread for nearly one-half a block.

The paving work on Grand avenue has been temporarily suspended and the crew transferred to West Third street because of the damp condition of the grading on Grand avenue. All of the grading and all of the curbing has been completed on the portions of these two streets where paving is being installed. The curbing runs eighteen inches in the ground. The width of the streets where the paving is laid is twenty-four feet from curb to curb. The grading is packed hard on West Third. A ten-ton roller was used to pack the dirt.

Each truck hauls twenty-one cubic feet of concrete mixture, the composition of which is divided into the porportions of one part cement, two parts sand and 4 parts rock. The rock is hard shale and is quarried at Louisville, Neb., not far from Omaha. The concrete is mixed in a cement mixing machine on capterpillar wheels which moves just a few feet ahead as the concrete is dumped.

When the paving is completed it will be nine inches thick. Four inches of concrete is first laid, an inch of sand for a cushion is placed on top of the concrete and the brick, four-inches deep, is then put on top which is covered with a thin covering for the purpose is to fill up the cracks between the bricks.

All of the concrete will be poured on both Grand avenue and West Third street before the heavy freezes and allowed to harden before the brick paving is laid. The brick can be put down any time during the winter as weather conditions will not affect the work.

The Cook & O'Brien Construction Co., has twenty-six men on the crew. Seven truck drivers are used, about ten men work at the cement mixer and smooth the concrete as it is poured and the remainder work at the cars at the Wabash depot shoveling the proportions of the concrete. Jack Cannon is superintendent of the work for the Construction Co. When asked this morning if any relation to "Uncle" Joe Cannon, said that he was a grand nephew but that "Uncle" Joe did not know it. J. E. Reece, city engineer, is out on the job all the time inspecting the work and seeing that it is done according to specifications. Mayor W. O. Garrett says that it is not known when the work of paving West Third street and Grand avenue will be completed. It all depends upon the weather conditions.

PRESBYTERIANS TO HAVE NEW SERVICE

"FIRESIDE SERVICES" TO BE STARTED SUNDAY EVENING

SERIES OF SERMONS

The Rev. S. P. Allison Will Give "Fireside Talks About God"—Music To Be Informal

A new form of Sunday evening service will be held at the Presbyterian Church, beginning next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

They will be called "Fireside Services." The purpose is to get the effect of a family and its friends sitting about an open fireside in a home, singing together, and talking over interesting themes of the Christian life. These "Fireside Services" are not merely for the members of the Presbyterian Church, but for all interested who would like to come.

This form of service was tried at New Year and was so popular that it was decided to take up this kind of service again on Sunday evenings.

Three of these services are planned for the first weeks of November. The pastor, the Rev. S. P. Allison has announced a series of "Fireside Talks about God." The one for next Sunday evening will be "The Personality of God." "Our Personal God and His World" is the "Fireside Talk" for November 11th. That evening will be considered what light the personality of God throws on the relation of religion and science, on the relation of man to man, etc. The last "Fireside Talk" will be November 18th on "Our Personal God and Prayer."

The music at the "Fireside Services" will be very informal. Preferfavorites. Those attending will be ence will be given to the old-time asked to hand in the names of old songs they would like to sing. Luther A. Richman, musical director at the church, is in charge of the music. Sunday evening he will sing a solo.

In order to carry out as completely as possible the home, fireside idea, the members of the Westminster Guild will act as hostesses Sunday evening. They will be at the doors of the church with a welcome and are to care for those attending as a hostess would care for them in her home. Other organizations of the church will be asked to serve as hosts or hostesses at other of the "Fireside Services."

MUCH ENTHUSIASM IS BROUGHT FORTH

AT HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT AT THE TABERNACLE

TITLE OF SERMON "SIN"

Delegation From Hopkins, Pickering, Gaynor and Bedison Present— Baptismal Service Beautiful

More real enthusiasm was manifested in the meeting at the tabernacle last night than on any other previous night, due largely to the presence of the High School students who came with their songs, yells and band. It was a great demonstration and the large audience responded to the cheers of the High School by fifteen "Rahs" for the school, led by McCanon of Hopkins.

In addition to the High School delegation there were special delegations from Hopkins, Pickering, Gaynor and Bedison. The Pickering folk furnished a special musical number by the women's quartette which was appreciated.

Arthur Hamilton sang two beautiful solos: "Crossing the Bar," and "Where Do You Stand Tonight?" The chorus number, "Peace Be Still," aded greatly to the musical program of the evening. The Reverend O. E. Hamilton addressed himself to the general subject, "Sin." He delivered one of the most forceful messages of the series last night in which he used illustrations taken from his trips around the world, bring to the young people present some thrilling descriptions of sin as it affects the souls of men. His stories of leprous patients that he saw in lands abroad were not only extremely interesting, but effective.

Tonight is delegation night for Skidmore, Bethany, Palestine, Graham and Salem. A large attendance is expected, as the roads will permit large numbers to come into the meeting from the country. Most every night when the roads permit the churches of the county are represented at the services. Great plans are being made to handle the Sunday night audience. Eight hundred more chairs have arrived and thus it will be possible to seat two or three hundred more people in the tabernacle. All the churches of the county are urged to organize their forces and bring in the largest delegations possible. If the tabernacle is more than filled, the Electric Theatre will be used for the overflow.

Much interest is being manifest in the book stand. Several have bought books and are planning to place several of the religious volumes in their home libraries.

The baptismal service at the tabernacle last night was impressive. The baptistry is built above the choir platform and where all can witness the ordinance. The ligthing effect is beautiful. There will be no more baptizing until Tuesday night of next week.

MAY TAKE CASE TO SUPREME COURT

GOVERNOR WALTON'S ATTORNEY SAYS IT IS POSSIBLE.

HOLD ELECTION ILLEGAL

Is Decision of a Lower Court—Riddel Says Walton Acted Legally.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 2.—Judge F. E. Riddel, chief counsel for the defense, admitted the matter of taking the decision in the impeachment case of Governor J. C. Walton to the United States Supreme Court would be a precedent setting case.

"It is under consideration by the defense," he added. "The October 2 election by which the legislature met to impeach Governor Walton was clearly illegal. That possibly will be the means of going to the Supreme Court as a last resort. We are certainly going to the Supreme Court if we find a way possible.

"Governor Walton acted legally in issuing a proclamation to postpone the October 2 election," the defense said in demurring to article twelve, the article charging him with trying to prevent the election by force.

"A lower court has held the election illegal and the case is now being tried in the Supreme Court. The principal issue on this article was an initiative petition providing for an election on the question of calling the legislature without the sanction of the Governor. The petition was included in the Governor's call for the December election, but not in the October call. It was voted upon, however, being placed on the ballot by the state election board."

Oklahoma City, Nov. 2.—It was predicted among lawyers last night the fate of Governor Walton would be known before midnight tonight.

When arguments on demurrers to fifteen counts presented by counsel for the governor yesterday afternoon are completed the merits in those counts will have been exhibited fully.

Those voting yesterday against quashing the indictment included several senators reputed to be in accord with Walton in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan.

The almost unanimous vote against quashing the indictment apparently was unexpected by the suspended governor, for his countenance fell and he removed his cob pipe from his lips and looked vacantly at the ceiling.

The proceedings were snappy, as if the senators contemplated making quick work of the case. Riddle asked for ten days in which to plead and was granted three hours. Later, Judge Tom Neal of the Riddle staff asked for a recess until 1 o'clock this afternoon to prepare arguments on the demurrer and was granted until 10 o'clock this morning.

The mill of the house investigating committee continued to grind today. Probably three or more additional charges against Walton will be presented soon to the house. Senators openly are predicting they will have to continue in session to try other state officials.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 2—If the Oklahoma state Senate orders the removal of Governor J. C. Walton from the executive office, an effort will be made to take the case to the United States Supreme Court, H. B. Martin of the defense staff announced today.

"Governor Walton may be removed from office but he will not 'stay removed' more than thirty days," Martin declared. "While an appeal cannot be taken from the Senate's decision, there still is a method of getting the case before the Supreme Court."

Martin declined to give the details of the plan to reverse the feared decision of the Oklahoma Senate.

"Governor Walton will not leave his office permanently until his term expires," Martin continued. "The Klan is in the saddle now and is planning to ride over us in the beginning. The invisible empire, however, is riding to a fall.

"When any public movement disregards the primary laws and fundamental liberties of the people, there is no doubt but what they will meet with disaster. One of the objects of the defense of Governor Walton is to eliminate the Klan as a factor in Oklahoma and national politics.

According to Martin, after the impeachment trial of Governor Walton, the executive will launch a campaign against the Klan throughout the United States.

NO DAMAGES FOR WILLIAMS BY JURY

VERDICT SAYS HE IS NOT DAMAGED BY STATE HIGHWAY

FIRST CASE TRIED HERE

Two Other Cases, Grace Woods and Ernest Boyer, Went To Trial This Afternoon

The jury in the case of the State Highway Commission against S. H. Williams, condemnation, returned a verdict about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon assessing no damages in Williams favor. The verdict was:

"We, the jury find that defendant, Samuel H. Williams, is not damaged by reason of the location and construction of the improved public highway along his lands and we assess no damages in his favor. Signed: A. M. Hazelton, L. O. Reaksecker, J. N. George, Ed Ward, Henry Rowlett, Carl Maul, A. D. Strong, Henry A. Thompson and Harry Cowen."

This was the first case tried here for condemnation since the state highway system was adopted a few years ago. The jury was out for two hours and a half. The commissioners in their report gave Williams no damages and then he filed exceptions to their report and the case was tried in circuit court, resulting in a similar report from the jury.

The case was hotly contested with McCaffrey & Cook and Dr. O. L. Curl, prosecuting attorney, representing the state, and Cook & Cummins Mr. Williams.

After the Williams case, the cases of the State Highway Commission against Grace Woods and Ernest Boyer, condemnation, went to trial. Both of these parties filed exceptions to the report of the commissioners who assessed no damages on account of the benefits of such a state highway. The new highway takes a strip off of the Woods farm amounting to 1.82 acres. Of the Boyer farm, it takes a strip amounting to 3.58 acres of land. There were no cuts in the highway near these places and the land was taken for the purpose of widening the road. These farms are on the same road as the Williams farm, the state highway between Maryville and Burlington Junction.

The jury hearing the Woods-Boyer case is composed of the following: J. H. Linville, Byron Price, William Holtman, W. T. Gray, Murray Welling, A. L. Nash, John Z. Curnutt, Ed Hamlin, Joseph Auer, Francis Sherlock, E. C. Bagby, Harry Lyle.

It is expected these two cases will take all day tomorrow so as the case of James Sheridan against Leo B. Knox for damages will not come to trial until Monday.

U. S. MAY BE OUT OF FOREIGN PARLEY

OFFICIALS ARE DISAPPOINTED AT ATTITUDE OF FRANCE

MUST HAVE FREE HAND

America Maintains That Experts Shall Determine Germany's Real Financial Capacity to Pay

Washington, Nov. 2—The United States may not participate in the proposed reparations conference after all.

Distressed and disappointed at the attitude of the French foreign office in seeking to interpose limitations on the conference, even before it has begun to take shape, officials here are seriously considering whether it is worth while for America to send experts abroad.

It is understood that the embassy at Paris has been instructed to ascertain the intentions of the French government. If it is their intention to limit the scope of the parley to ascertain what Germany can pay now and not in the future, it is possible that Secretary Hughes will decline the invitation to participate.

It has been the Coolidge-Hughes idea that the conference should be composed of competent business and financial experts who shall be instructed to carefully consider Germany's capacity to pay and the financial plan by which the payments can be made. There was to be nothing binding the governments to accept the conclusions of the experts. It was recognized that France had the right to not commit herself at the findings of the conference.

Premier Poincare's bristling speech to the effect that France would not tolerate deviation from the treaty of Versailles and that she could not accept any reduction in the amount of reparations due her, is taken with a grain of salt here in Washington. It is thought by officials that the Premier's speech was for home consumption only.

Unless the experts can have a free hand to examine the entire reparations problem, the state department takes the view that the conference will prove useless.

This government, it is said with great emphasis, is not abandoning its aloofness to mix up in any aimless political conference.

'It all depends on Paris,' was the official summary of the situation today.

"If they are sincerely attempting the settlement of the reparations problem, the United States will be glad to participate. If not, we will stay at home," it was said officially today.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

SOME EDUCATION NEEDED

The frequent disposition of auto drivers to run away after an accident and to try to escape detection seems to be as general among women as men. The reckless, drunken or criminal driver will of course undertake to get away after he runs over some one because he knows there is a penalty awaiting him and the courts are not and should not be lenient in such cases. The man who has no fear of Justice and who is conscious that his plight is the result of an unavoidable accident, stops and helps care for his victim as the law requires.

In Kansas City yesterday a well dressed lady in a big car ran over a boy on a bicycle. She sped on and a man, who witnessed the affair, realizing the position in which she was placing herself, pursued and overtook her car and pleaded with her to return to the accident. She refused and will of course be arrested charged with a serious offense. It would seem at first thought that the natural tenderness of feeling with which women are more largely endowed than men would cause them to stop. On the other hand, the fear of notoriety and detection no doubt leads them to run away in many cases.

And again, it is probable that ignorance of the law may account for many such offenses. The laws of Missouri make it a felony, that means it is a penitentiary offense, to leave the scene of an accident without stopping for identification and to help minister to the injured. Any one who intentionally drives off without waiting to see what injury has been done, subjects himself to a penitentiary charge.

This is a perfectly proper law but in Missouri the law is lamentably weak in the licensing of drivers. Outside of professional chauffers, no permit or examination is required and no knowledge of either car or law is necessary. In some states, and many large cities, owners and all who drive cars must stand a rigid examination showing that they know something about driving and that they know the traffic rules and the laws. In this state, it is not necessary to know anything about traffic rules, road laws or any other laws in order to drive a car. All you need to do is to get a key and step on the gas and the balance of humanity can take care of itself. If all drivers were reasonably competent drivers and had a fair knowledge of the laws, many serious accidents would no doubt be avoided and many lives saved.

There are lots of auto accessories but so far no one has tried to supply the demand for spare parts for pedestrians. Here's a big opening.

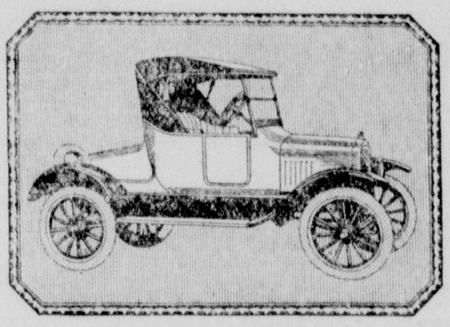
Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR



New Roadster

Business men—with whom the runabout has always been very popular—are well pleased with the changes embodied in this model.

Always rugged, the car has been made decidedly trimmer and more comfortable.

This result is obtained by raising the radiator and enlarging the cowl, making a decided improvement in looks and providing more leg room.

A well designed top and slanting windshield do their share toward adding a finished, clean-cut appearance.

Make it a point to see the other new models also on display in our show room.

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

Christmas is swiftly approaching, and the wise person, realizing that engraved Greeting Cards are a product of time and skill, will arrange to place his order very soon.

Red Cross Aid to Disabled Ex-Service Men Increasing

DISABLED VETERANS IN HOSPITALS RECEIVE INDIVIDUAL AID FROM RED CROSS WORKERS

Washington—Five years after the armistice ending the World War, reports of American Red Cross services in behalf of the men who wore the uniform of the United States refute any belief which might exist that the wounds of that conflict are nearly healed. In urging an increase in membership enrollment during the Red Cross Roll Call opening on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, facts convincingly supported by authoritative statistics are issued by the national organization showing that assistance was extended by the Red Cross to about 200,000 former service men or their families, and 62,296 instances of definite and specialized aid to men in hospitals were noted in the past year.

In all hospitals 34,793 soldier patients were registered, while from March to October dispensaries and out-patient clinics gave 44,845 treatments and 22,309 examinations. On Sept. 1 there were 73,276 former service men undergoing vocational training, all of which indicates that the Red Cross in supplementing the work of the government physicians and nurses by helping to make the patient contented, by allaying worry over his family, furnishing personal services and providing recreation and entertainment, has an increasingly large work to do in this paramount activity.

In this activity $5,866,255 was expended by Red Cross Chapters and the national organization during the last year.

One problem in which the Red Cross alone is meeting a financial demand is that of the transient disabled ex-service man and his family who must be cared for while traveling from place to place. In personal loans and grants to these travelers $138,334.71 was spent during the year. The variety of Red Cross service also embraces straightening out complicated claims, supplying recreational equipment to veterans' training centers, furnishing capital loans to blind veterans that enable them to begin business, hospital service, medical social service, information service, recreation and entertainment.

NODAWAY IS FIRST IN FARM PRODUCTS

ACCORDING TO SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS TRUST CO.

IS FIRST IN LIVESTOCK

Third in Crop Values, First in Beef Cattle, First in Hogs, First in Corn

The Liberty Central Trust Company, St. Louis, has summarized the crop and live stock data recently made public by the State Board of Agriculture. Below are some of the points brought out, relating to counties that lead in various farm products.

Nodaway County ranks third in crop values, first in value of farm products, first in livestock, first in beef cattle, first in hogs, second in sales of chickens, first in corn, fifth in wheat production, fourth in oats acreage. In 1922 Nodaway led all the others in oats production.

Due to increased output and relatively high prices of cotton, the south eastern counties, in 1922, made an exceptional record in crop values; Dunklin led the entire state, with Pemiscot second. Nodaway, in the northwest, was third with St. Louis County fourth The aggregate crop value for the best five counties in the southeast was $30,122,000, as compared to $29,751,000 for the five leaders elsewhere.

In estimated value of all farm products—crops, livestock, poultry, wool and milk, Nodaway comes first, with Dunklin, Chartion, Pemiscot, Greene, Saline, Lafayette and St. Louis following in the order named.

The most important live stock counties, measured by values, are in the west and northwest. Nodaway leads, followed by Johnson, Saline, Atchison and Carroll. There are no eastern counties among the best ten. In the estimated number of beef cattle on January 1, 1923, Nodaway again comes first, with Sullivan second, Linn third and Chariton fourth. In dairy cattle Greene, in the southwest, leads; next, in order, comes Jackson Vernon, Bates and Cass, all in the west. Franklin is the most important eastern county in this respect, ranking eighth.

In hogs, Nodaway is first, Saline second, Atchison third, Buchanan fourth and Carroll fifth. Schuyler, in the north, contains the most sheep; Monroe, in the northeast, is second; Carroll ranks third and Audrain fourth. Callaway is the leading mule county; Stoddard and New Madrid, in the cotton section of the southeast, rank second and third respectively; Saline is fourth and Boone fifth.

The important counties in milk production are somewhat scattered. Greene, in the southwest, is the leader in farm value of milk; Jefferson in the east, is second; Jackson, in the west, ranks third; Newton is fourth and Cass fifth.

Harrison, in the northwest, is Missouri's leading poultry county, being first in sales of both chickens and eggs. In sales of chickens, the counties next in importance are Nodaway, Henry, Macon, Chariton, Bates, Vernon and Franklin. The last-named is the only eastern county in the list. Franklin, however, comes second in sales of eggs, with Daviess, in the northwest, third.

The western and northwestern section includes the principal corn counties. In 1923 acreage, Nodway leads, with Atchison, Saline, Bates, Cass and Carroll following. In 1922 production, Nodaway, Atchison and Saline again rank first, second and third respectively.

The important wheat counties are scattered. In 1923 acreage, they rank as follows; Jasper (southwest), Scott (southeast), St. Charles, (east(, Mississippi (southeast and Platte (northwest). In 1922 production, Platte led, followed by Jasper, St. Charles, Mississippi and Nodaway.

Twelve counties, in 1923, had a larger acreage planted to wheat than to corn, Most are in the east and the Southeast.

The largest oats acreage was in Audrain County. Callaway ranked second, Henry third and Nodaway fourth. The last named county led in 1922 production, with Harrison, Barton, Jasper and Lawrence following, in order named.

Eighteen counties, most of them in the north-central and south-central sections, had larger acreages in oats than in wheat this season. There were no counties in which the planting of oats exceeded corn.

Harrison, Sullivan, Macon, Johnson, and Adair were the principal hay counties, in 1923 acreage. In 1922 production, the leaders, in order, were Lafayette, Cass, Johnson, Macon, Chariton, Ray and Putnam.

St. Louis county ranks first, in acreage devoted to orchards and small fruits. The counties next in importance are all in the south-central and southwestern sections—Barry, Newton Lawrence, Howell, Greene, Wright and McDonald.

Drink Water If Back or Kidneys Hurt

Begin Taking Salts If You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Weakness

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

DEAL MADE DESPITE ADVERSE REPORT

MORSE TESTIFIES AT VETERANS' BUREAU INVESTIGATION

SAID "USED INFLUENCE"

Witness Says He Could Have Made $200,000 by Surrendering Lease, But Feared Scandal

Washington, Oct. 31—The Excelsior Springs Hospital investigation before a Senate committee took a sudden new turn today when it was developed that a month before the Government brought the hospital property from E. L. (Liv) Morse for $173,000 in July, 1922, the Federal Hospitalization Board recommended that the entire Excelsior Springs project be abandoned. The minutes of the board's meeting containing this recommendation were read into the record by Major-General John F. O'Ryan counsel for the committee. They were signed by Dr. C. E. Sawyer as chairman of the board.

Morse, testifying, said that the hospital matter was being handled at that time by Charles F. Cramer, general counsel for the Veterans' Bureau, who later committed suicide. He went to Cramer to try to get him to save the project. Questions by committee members brought out from Morse that Cramer was then seeking to get himself appointed Assistant Secretary of War and wanted the influence of Morse used in that direction.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, previously had recalled that Morse was an "influential Republican politician" who had testified at the campaign fund investigation of 1920.

Explanation of Morse

Morse said that the Veterans' Bureau, through Cramer, offered to pay him back what he had put into the proposition if he would surrender the lease.

Asked why he had not accepted this offer, Morse replied:

"If I had accepted they would have said in Missouri that I was a crook. I could have made $200,000 on the transaction. It would have created a scandal. Senators that I talked with about the matter told me the proposition was unthinkable."

"Wasn't it worse?" cut in Senator Walsh, "to foist on the Government a hospital location that the health authorities had repudiated?"

Morse testified that after the adverse report of the Hospitalization Board, in June, 1922, he visited the Capitol and talked to about a hundred Senators and Representatives in his effort to get the sale to the Government consummated.

Talked To Congressmen

"I talked to everybody that would listen," he said. He urged them all, he said, to call up the Veterans' Bureau in behalf of the project.

Senator Walsh said it appeared that the purchase by the Government within a month after the Hospitalization Board's report was due to the political pressure Morse had been able to bring to bear on the Veterans' Bureau.

Charles R. Forbes, former director of the bureau, was shown in the testimony to have been opposed to the Excelsior Springs project. At the request of Forbes' counsel, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, asked Morse whether he had ever been ordered out of Forbes' office,, Morse replied that he had not.

Willing to Have Reappraisal

After the reading of an affidavit by J. J. Kendrick, a Kansas City real estate expert, to the effect that the property today is not worth over $99,000, Morse testified that he was willing to have an impartial appraisal made and to refund the difference to the Government if it was found that he had been paid too much. Morse proposed that one appraiser should be named by the head of the Veterans' Bureau, another by himself and a third by these two. He said he would be willing to abide by a majority finding.

Much Pep Displayed by S. T. C. Football Fans

Big Pep Meeting Last Night—'The Shriek' Occupies Place Of Honor

Last night the pep of the S. T. C. student body was evident to all who were on the streets between the hours of 7:30 o'clock to 9:30. About 400 Bear Cat rooters met at the Court House square and song songs of the school and gave yells for the Bear Cats until 8 o'clock when the body adjourned to the court room.

Here pep talks were made by various members of the audience which sounded the keynote of a coming Maryville victory over Springfield. "We know we are going to beat Springfield" said President Uel Lamkin and the cheers of the student body backed him up in the statement.

William Richards and Hugh Graham were the spokesmen of the team and told the student body just how the team felt about the support received from the grandstand.

The students marched to the Elks Club and gave cheers for Congressman Faust, who was a guest of this organization last night. The Representative responded with a short talk to the students and assured them that "everyone in the Fourth Congressional District was pulling for them to win."

This morning between every class the students at the College met around the 'shriek' and gave the College songs and yells. The 'shriek' is the old wooden Indian used as a cigar advertisement about ten years ago. Hallowe'en night the statue was taken from behind the Maryville Motor Co. garage and eventually found its way to the pedestal formerly occupied by Hebe. Yesterday morning the janitor force of the College removed the statue only to find that it had again been placed on the pedestal on the second floor and had been painted with green paint. The paint was not dry this morning and so the 'shriek' is still in the honored place at the College.

Debate Try-Outs to Be Held Next Week

Debate try-outs will be held at the High School Monday and Tuesday afternoons for the purpose of selecting debating teams to represent the local high school in this debating district of Missouri. The first try-out is to be held at 2 o'clock Monday.

The subject for all the debates is: "Resolved, That the Commission Manager Plan of Government Should Be Adopted by Missouri Cities of 100,000 Population."

Those who will defend the proposition in the first debate are: Thelma Penisten, L. M. Raines and Esther Hull. The students who are on the negative team are Kathryn Kiplar, Lucille Qualls and Elizabeth Wilkerson.

In the second debate that will take place Tuesday afternoon Clement Rickman and Ralph Graves will speak for the affirmative side, and Stuart Tullioch and Dorothy McCord are on the negative side of the proposition. A third debate is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Esther Roseberry and Burdette Yeo will uphold the affirmative and Edwyna Forsyth with Jesse Michaelson will uphold the negative.

Members of the high school faculty will judge the debaters on delivery, argument, understanding of the question and prospect as debaters. A first and second team will be chosen. The second team will not only be substitutes but will help in keeping the first team posted on the question.

Lafayette Star to Be Out of Game Tomorrow

There is gloom in Lafayette high's football camp. Dick Botsford, stellar half, will be unable to play against Maryville Saturday.

Against Rock Port last week Botsford received a wrenched back, and although he has been nursed along since, has been unable to practice this week and will not make the trip to Maryville. His loss is a staggering blow to the North Enders' chances, as Botsford is a triple threat man, their punter, passer and best lugger.

In Botsford's place at right half Coach D. H. Murphy probably will alternate Deal, who has been playing tackle, and Wilson, who has shown well the little that he has played, and can work equally as good in the line as in the backfield.

Coach Murphy sent his regulars through a stiff scrimmage with his reserves Thursday afternoon and the first string warriors looked practically as good as they would have had Botsford been doing his share of the duties.

This lineup is expected to start the game: Brown, r. e.; Wilson or Deal, r. t.; Mitchell, r. g.; Crowell, c.; Cobb or Lodholz, l. g.; Wilson, l. t.; Jacobs, Clark or MacClurg, l. e.; Deal or Wilson, r. h.; Beeler, l. h.; Krumeri, f. b.; Henry, q. b.

In her last two starts the Maryville outfit has won and lost. They beat King City, 52 to 0, last week, but were defeated by Tarkio, 14 to 12, the deciding score being made in the last few minutes of play. Coach Ebert's Maryville squad is the lightest in the school's history, but is fast and well versed in the open style of play.

Last year Maryville trounced Lafayette, 57 to 7 in the mud.—St. Joseph Gazette.

Four Unmasked Bandits Rob Ottawa Bank

Lock Ten Employes In Vault and Escape With Between $25,000 and $30,000 In Cash

Ottawa, Kan., Nov. 2—Four unmasked bandits held up and robbed the First National Bank of Ottawa this morning and escaped with between $25,000 and $30,000 in cash.

The bandits compelled ten employes to lie on the floor while they entered the vault and stole all the silver currency the bank had on hand.

Flourishing automatic pictols and using profanity freely, the four bandits rushed into the bank shortly after it was opened for business this morning and commanded the five men and five women employes to hold up their hands. One of the bandits forced R. S. Hanes, assistant cashier, to open the safe in the vault. The other employes were forced to lie on the floor while the robbery was being conducted.

After placing the money in a sack, the bandits forced the employes into the vault, locked it, and made their escape. It is believed the bandits made their getaway in an automobile.

Employes were released about ten minutes later by persons attracted by their shouts. One person shouted the combination to the liberators.

Police in Kansas City and surrounding towns were notified of the robbery and description of the bandits given.

F. G. Miller, president of the bank, announced that a check was being made to ascertain the exact amount of the loot.

To Build Building for Townsends at Albany

(Albany Ledger.)

Plans for the new Townsend wholesale grocery house, mention of which was made in last week's Ledger, are going on in a satisfactory manner, and there does not seem to be any reason why they should not be completed. Practically all of the stock for the new building has been arranged for, and plans are now being made for the new building.

An option has been secured for the lots of the Twist property on the southeast corner of the square, and there is where the new business will be located. The building will have two floors and will be 60x100 feet in dimensions. It will be of hollow tile walls with cement finish.

Men who have promised to take stock in the building are J. H. Degginger, I. N. Swetnam, G. W. Reed, M. M. Chenoweth, T. R. Hockley, J. R. Patton, J. W. Embree, B. L. Peery, M. P. Whaley, W. I. Reed, W. P. Stapleton, F. P. Stapleton, B. F. Hardin, Roy Yeater, Ted Fore, E. L. Smith.
